Pittsburgh's 2012 Top Car Dealers as Rated by Women

Dealerships are Rated and Rewarded for Best Experience by Female Buyers

PITTSBURGH, PA - As many Western Pennsylvanian car dealer principals arrive home this week from the National Automobile Dealers Association in Orlando, they have amassed a wealth of new strategies and ways to grow and market their business. Here in Pittsburgh, Women-Drivers.com is a car dealer rating website that helps make car buying easier for women by connecting them to CERTIFIED Women-Friendly Dealers. The company has released the top car dealerships in the Pittsburgh region – the list is based upon the cumulative Women Satisfaction Index®, or, WSI, of consumer reviews written in 2012.

The value for dealers is that their CERTIFICATION comes from authentic consumer reviews. Being CERTIFIED gives the dealership a competitive marketing advantage. These dealers are getting more walk-ins and referrals because of the free SEO these reviews receive. Reviews also feed into a dealership's Facebook page attracting more social interaction, reach and Likes.

“We truly appreciate the time our customers take to share their feedback and are proud that all of our six dealerships are Certified Women-Friendly,” said Gwen Lewis, Founding Director of Online Operations for the Ron Lewis Automotive Group. “Our Pleasant Hills Chrysler Dodge Jeep Ram dealership has close to 100 reviews posted on women-drivers.com, citing real life experiences that provide valuable insight into what it’s like to purchase a vehicle with us.”

How do Consumers and Car Dealers both benefit?

Dealerships would be wise to pay attention to the shifting trends of the auto buyer. Moms now wield $2.1 trillion each year and over one-third of wives out earn their husbands. However, 30% of female car buyers are single. The car dealership experience is changing, as research shows that women buy half of all new cars, and influence up to 80% of car purchases. Typically more loyal than men, women request 65% of the mechanical service work done at dealerships. Yet, for many women, going to the dealership to buy a car is not an experience they look forward to. Women-Drivers.com connects this powerful group of buyers to dealerships that are already treating women respectfully and fairly.

“The days of consumers thinking that they need to buy a car at the dealership where it will be serviced – typically, closest to their home, is no longer valid. When spending an average of nearly $31,000 on a new vehicle, we advocate that women+families travel a few extra miles to have a great experience at one of the top rated dealerships,” noted company President and Car Buying Advocate, Anne Fleming.

What Are the Criteria for Being a Certified Women-Friendly™ Dealership?

A dealership must have a minimum of ten reviews to qualify, and receive at least two (2) reviews each month to maintain the CERTIFIED status. For each review written, a rating is posted with scores ranging from a 5.0 (Excellent) to a 1.0 (Marginal). Each review falls under one of three categories: Browsing, Purchasing or Servicing. A CERTIFIED Women-Friendly rating of 3.8 or higher indicates that a dealership has earned the trust and reputation of being fair, trustworthy and service-oriented towards women.
